

June 2017 Sunsets over Lake Superior in Marquette, MI

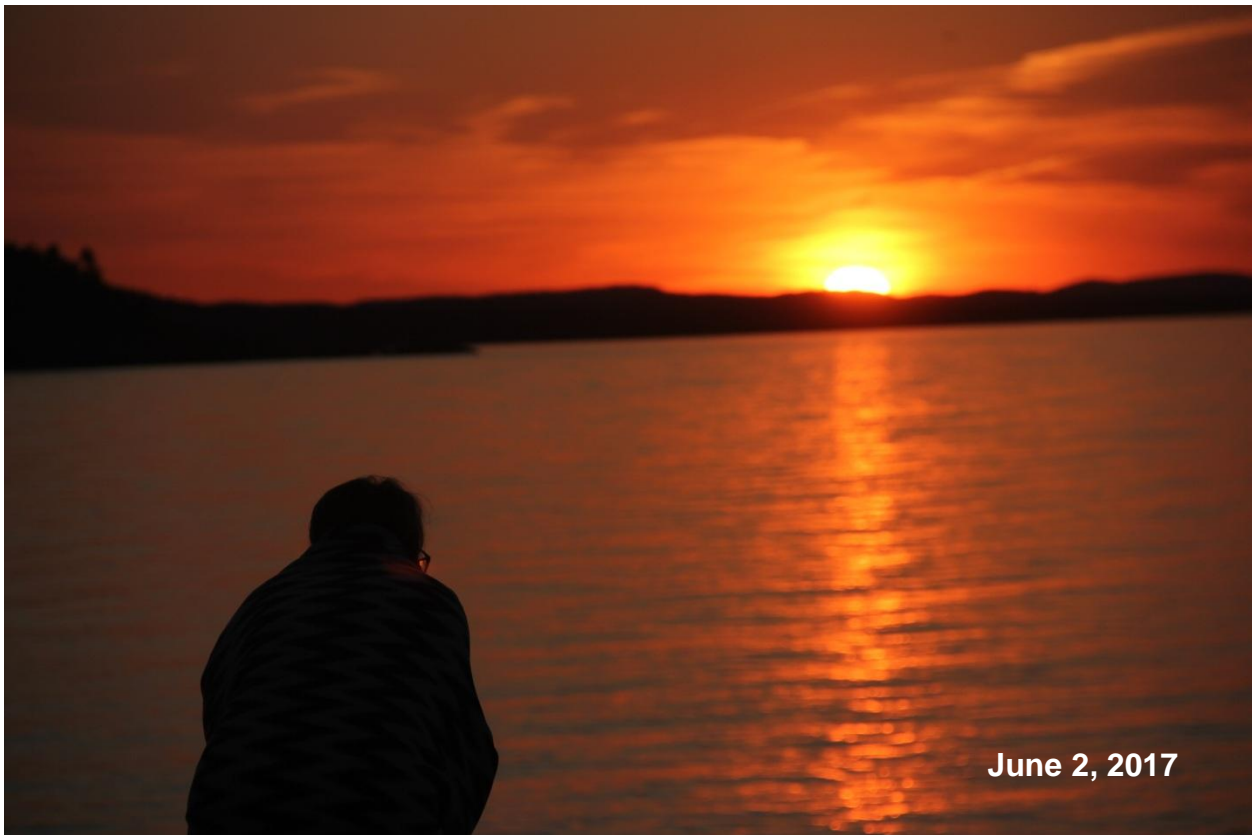

Photographed by Alee Hill

Starting June 1, 2017 I began photographing the sunset from Presque Isle Park's Sunset Point, which overlooks Lake Superior in Marquette, Michigan. Regardless of weather or pre-existing plans, I made my way to Sunset Point every day in June to take a picture of the sunset. I looked forward to this daily routine. The sound of Lake Superior splashing gently against rocks was so calming; it was a guaranteed good end to my day.

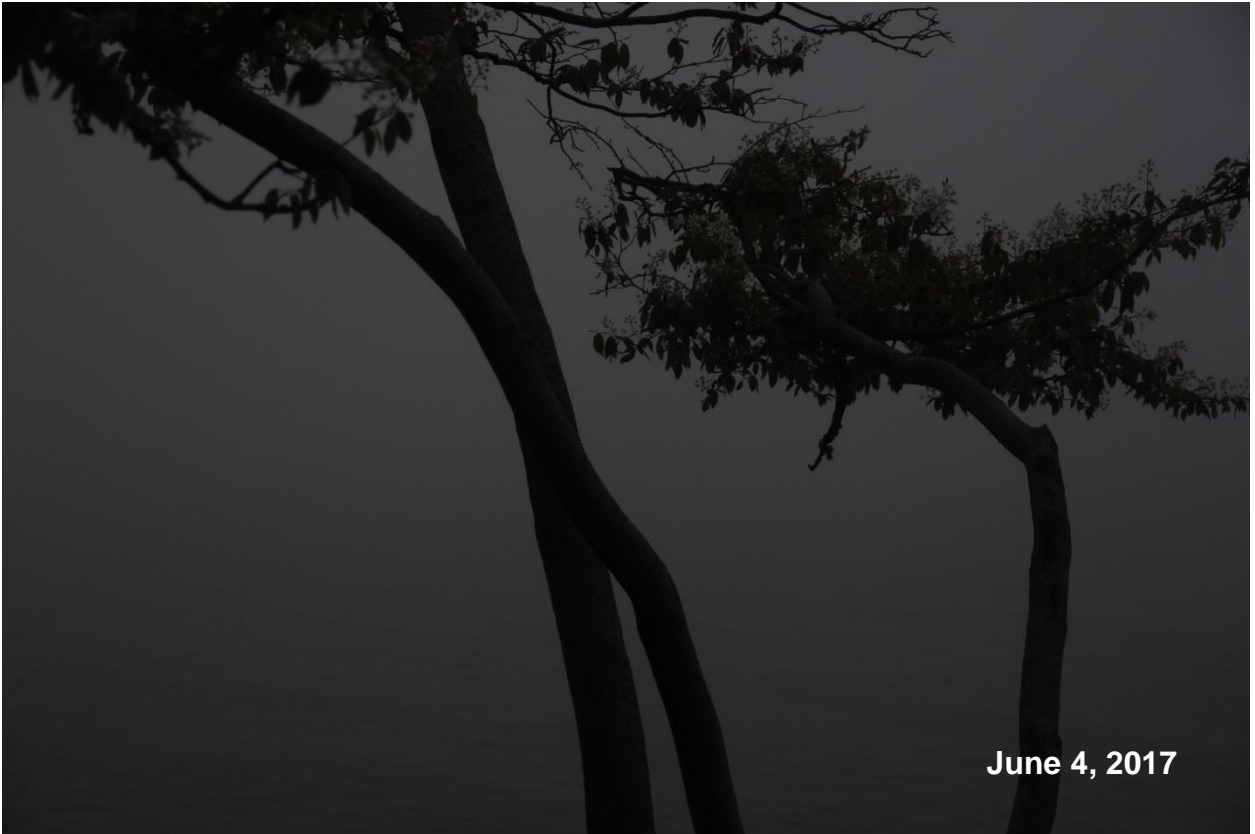

Although I was taking pictures of the same subject from the same point day after day, the sunsets themselves were always unique. By the end of the month, I had compiled thirty photos of thirty distinct sunsets.
